For Today: Sharing the Word

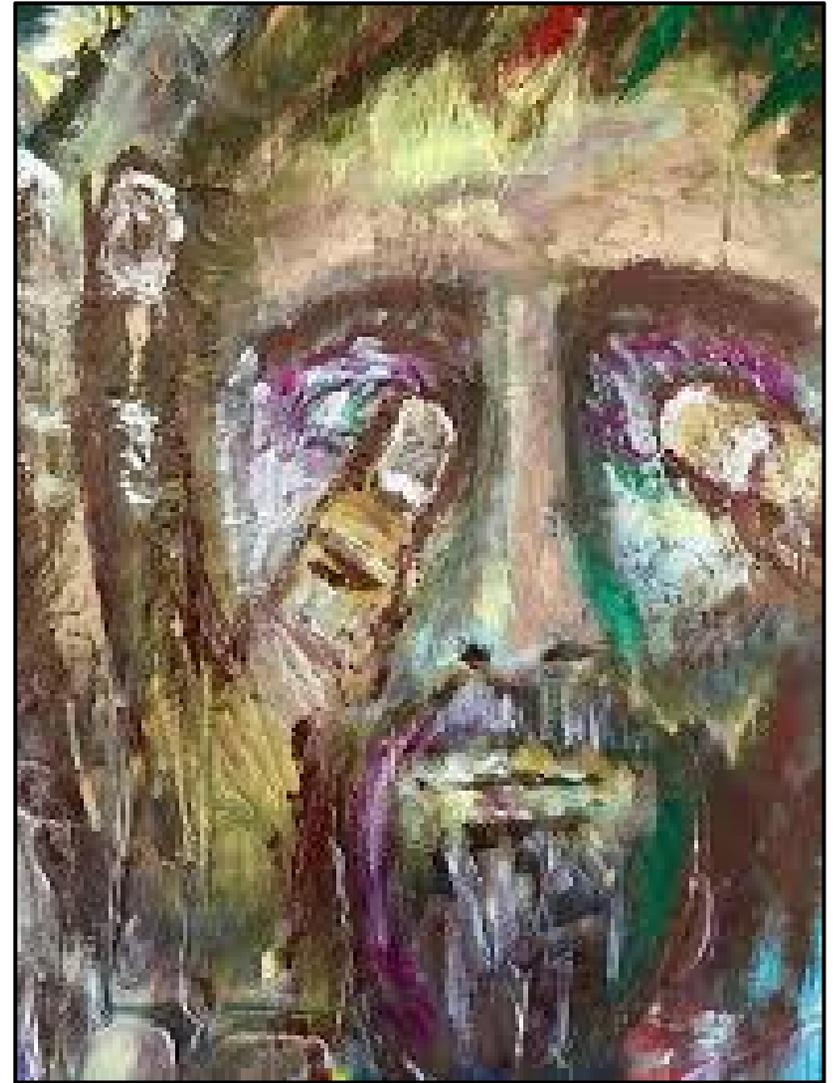

Each day you and I use thousands of words; we share sentences to express our thoughts and feelings. However, our intended messages can sometimes be misunderstood. It is estimated that in the Scots language, spoken in the winter wonderland of the northern United Kingdom, more than 400 words exist for “snow.” In Arizona, they make a big deal about any winter precipitation. In Idaho, we talk about graupel, snowpack, and “School’s closed!” If Scots-speaking people tried to teach me about their snowfall without me experiencing it personally, their lesson would probably have me floundering.

A lot was at stake in Jesus’ ministry—if His message got lost, His hearers could end up eternally lost. He often used metaphors, similes, and parables to convey the truth about the Kingdom of God. Jesus intentionally structured His message so that individuals who desired truth could hear and understand. He also combined His teaching with healing, feeding, and encouraging others with the hope found in salvation. Jesus knew what to say and how to live so that people would listen and apply the truth He shared to their lives.

In these end-times, Revelation 14:6 reveals the everlasting gospel being shared with every person throughout the world:

Then I saw another angel flying in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach to those who dwell on the earth—to every nation, tribe, tongue, and people.

It sounds like God is calling us to become expert communicators! As we attempt to reach unbelievers, we must consider prayerfully how to best impress them with the message of our soon-returning King. We should not only be students of the written Word, but imitators of the incarnate Word, who became the living translation of the character of God. Let us share and model the everlasting gospel message in a way that precious kernels of truth can be received by anyone who is open to His calling.

St. Louis General Conference Session, June 6-11. Learn about the different aspects of our ministry, how we bring souls seeking baptism into local churches around the world, and how you too can dig deeper in your personal and/or group study time. Bible studies that will grow you from the inside out, to reach out to others with the good news of Jesus soon return. Available on SUMtv, in conjunction with 3ABN, Monday-Thursday, 5:30 to 6:45 p.m. Pacific Time (Friday and Sabbath hours to be determined). Furthermore, if you don't want to miss a thing during the 2022 GC Session, ANN and the Adventist Review are the official sources of information for the Adventist Church.

On Guard! Knight & Day! VBS is happening in Clark Fork from June 27 through July 1. Please see Yvonne for details and volunteer help.

Camp meetings are fast approaching the Northwest. Not only are camp meetings a time for fellowship, but more importantly, they provide a time to connect deeper with Christ and reflect on the hope and wholeness of His love, sacrifice, and soon return.

Upper Columbia Conference Camp Meeting 2022, June 16-18: "His Soon Return: Getting Serious About the Second Coming," will be held at Spokane Valley Church. John Bradshaw, president and speaker of It Is Written, and David Jamieson, UCC president, are the main speakers. All programs will be in-person but also will be livestreamed. Free meals for those who attend on Sabbath, but pre-registration is required. More info: uccsda.org/campmeeting.

Faith Camp 2022, July 5-10, Hayden Lake SDA Church. A camp meeting for everyone, focused on faith and the Great Commission. For details, see Idaho Registration — FaithCamp 2022.

Clark Fork, sunset tonight: 8:41 p.m.; next Friday night: 8:45 p.m.

And Jesus said, "For judgment I have come into this world, that those who do not see may see, and that those who see may be made blind." Then some of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these words, and said to Him, "Are we blind also?" Jesus said to them, "If you were blind, you would have no sin; but now you say, 'We see.' Therefore, your sin remains."

John 9:39-41 NKJV
